

Denise L. Stephens

Chief Information Officer, Information Management

Ms. Stephens is an award winning Information Technology leader experienced in both the private and public sector. Prior to joining the Idaho National Laboratory, she served as Chief Information Officer at the Savannah River Site and has held executive management positions with the Boeing Company and the United States Postal Service.

Ms. Stephens serves on the Department of Energy Cyber Council and is the past Chairman of the National Laboratory Chief Information Officer Council and a member of its executive committee. In 2013, Ms. Stephens received the Premier 100 IT Leaders Award from Computerworld Magazine and the Department of Energy Secretary's Appreciation Award for responsive IT and Cyber Security.

Denise earned a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Missouri in St. Louis, Missouri.